

At Home Art Bingo

Complete a “bingo” (5 activities in a straight line) by Friday, 4/10. Document with pictures as you go because you will be asked to submit them on Google Classroom. A good idea is to allow two days to complete each activity although some might take longer than others. Start with the ones you like most and then try to get 5 in a row! If you cannot complete one for any reason, as long as 5 get done, they do not have to be in a row. That is just an added challenge. Have fun creating and I can wait to see what you come up with!

Find different colored objects and arrange them into a color wheel.	Draw your favorite toy or possession while looking at it.	Draw yourself as a superhero. List you special powers.	Create a visual recipe of your favorite meal. Include drawings and list of ingredients	Go outside and find natural objects (leaves, sticks, rocks.) Create a mandala or radial design and photograph it.
Design a different book cover for a book you have read.	Create a funny face collage using magazines or printed pictures.	Create a comic book strip with a least 4 scenes.	Stack objects as high as they can go. Take a picture before they fall.	Have an art critique with a family member. Discuss a famous piece or artwork and write a paragraph of what you talked about.
Create a maze or puzzle for someone to solve. This can be a physical maze or a hand drawn maze.	Build a fort and create inside or draw a treehouse and include special features (trap door, rope climb, etc.)	Design and create a card for someone in the house. This can be for any reason. Include pictures and a nice message.	Fold a piece of paper the long way. Write your name BIG on one side. Write it again on the other side, making it mirror image. Design a creature inside the shape your name creates	Create a collaborative drawing that you start. Pass it to someone else and finish it when it comes back to you.
Draw a picture outside with sidewalk chalk.	Read a story and create an illustration of your favorite part.	Watch a How-to-draw video with a family member and follow along.	Draw something in front of you from start to finish WITHOUT picking up your pencil.	Make a picture frame out of anything you want but make it large enough for a face. Take a picture with you or someone else inside it.
Create a sculpture using cut/ripped cardboard or paper.	Listen to a song and draw a design that the sounds make you think of (Works best with paint or watercolor if you have.)	Photograph your name, a word or phrase using items that look like the letters.	Make a paper chain with different positive messages on the links. Hang it where others can see and take a picture of it hanging.	Make a diorama using an old shoebox of your favorite movie scene.
